PLANS FOR TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT BY AIR ROUTE TO THE WAR FRONT

AMERICA TO BLAZE A NEW TRAIL TO EUROPE

United States' Full Power of Airplane Craft to be Brought Against The Huns, and Bombing Warfare Into Germany Will Be Made on Large Scale

The establishment of an air route to Europe from the United States in order to bring the full force of American effort in the air to bear against Germany, has been decided upon as a definite project by the British air council, the new organization into which all British air services have been merged. This was disclosed by Major-General William Branner, controller of equipment on the council, who is in Washington to discuss this and other projects relating to air warfare with American officials.

For an initial flight across the Atlantic in August, September or October this year are already well advanced. American co-operation is sought and General Branner hopes that the first machine to make the crossing will carry both British and American crews. At least three British pilots are now here, and several of our machine producers in England have ample fuel capacity for the forty hours of flying it is estimated the trip would take.

The attitude of the American government toward the project has not been disclosed, although General Branner has stated on the fact that its sole purpose is to bring to Europe, over which American aircraft can be delivered next year without taxation, shipping. Presumably, it arises from the fixed purpose of the British air ministry to carry the bombing war into Germany, and steadily increasing scale until not a vital spot in the German empire is safe from allied raiders. The point made by General Branner favoring the employment of British equipment for the venture is that the new Rolls-Royce 375-horsepower engines have proved reliable enough practically to insure no difficulty from this source. The American Liberty motors, he said, are admittedly better in performance than this Rolls-Royce, being of lighter weight and giving greater power, but they have not yet established the state of reliability of the Rolls-Royce. The general was certain, however, that Liberty-driven night bombers would be crossing the ocean in fleets next summer.

Under any consideration, a seaplane carrying at least 750 horsepower will be required to make the attempt the flight. Until arrangements have been made for the touching of airplanes at the Azores en route, which is a difficult matter owing to the rugged contour of the islands, landings there for refueling will have to be made on harbors.

As the trip is now projected, it would start from British soil in Newfoundland, touch at the Azores and again in Portugal and conclude in Ireland, probably to be resumed, after overhaul, to France. While this is not the shortest route, it is said to offer better weather and better opportunity to forecast the weather in advance.

There already have been conferences with American meteorological experts in this regard.

The governing factors of the flight will be given by the British office as engine reliability, navigation and weather forecasts. The probable loss of machines en route could be minimized, he believed, when the weather forecast had been fully worked out and flights were started only when it was determined that good weather would prevail.

The use of weight-carrying machines, such as night bombers, is essential, as the carrying capacity later to be devoted to hauling high explosives to German centers, selected for destruction, would go into effect during the trip. The twin Liberty type of American seaplane, built on British design, and now in production in the U. S. on a steadily increasing scale, meets these requirements. Many of these planes have already been shipped to Europe, and are now officially to be almost in sight when the production will far exceed shipping facilities. For that reason it may be that the navy, instead of the army, will undertake to develop the air route plan in conjunction with the British.

Dairy Competitions

The Dairymen's Association of Saskatchewan in conjunction with the dairy branch, department of agriculture, Regina, has arranged a number of interesting competitions for dairy farmers and creamery men in Saskatchewan. The results will be announced and awards made at the annual convention of the dairymen's association. The prizes aggregate $1,000.

Farm Employment Office

Every Canadian city, town and village should have a farm labor office where volunteers, who have registered their willingness to help on farms, may get in touch with farm-ers.

Why China is Unable to Help

Prevented by Financial Difficulties From Aiding Allies

Chinese soldiers are available for co-operation with the Japanese at Harbin and near the Siberian frontier, and if necessary more will be sent, Gen. Tuan Ch'i Jui, the Chinese premier and war minister, told the Peking correspondent of the Daily Mail. The premier added:

"The threatening situation on our frontiers certainly demands safeguards. We do not want the Bolsheviks in China."

With reference to Chinese participation in the war, the European battlefield correspondent said:

"I would like to help the allies, and would be glad to send 40,000 or 50,000 troops, but am prevented by financial difficulties and the activities of the provincial rebels. I have sent 150,000 troops south."

Regarding the feeling of the Chinese toward the Germans, Gen. Tuan Ch'i Jui said that the people generally could not distinguish between the Germans and other Europeans, adding:

"But the enlightened classes realize that last year the Germans killed two missionaries, Germany forced us to cede Tsingtao and owing to that precedent places like Port Arthur and Wei Hai Wei were sliced from China. But for Germany China would be strong today."

"Furthermore, it is impossible to forget that during the Boxer trouble German troops were ordered not to give quarter, while the invasion of the imperial palace by German soldiers was a disgrace, unparalleled in our civilization, and will ever be remembered with contempt."

"The Boxer rising itself was provoked by German bullying at Tsingtao. Besides how can we forget the Kaiser's continual harping on the Yellow peril?"

The general declared his intention of opening up China after the war by developing mineral deposits and extending railroads.

The Advent of Revolution

On the Eve of a Revolution of Our Habits and Thoughts

Would that men could see that we are living on the eve of the greatest war that has ever afflicted mankind, but also in the Advent of Revolution, at once material, moral and spiritual; wider, I believe, and deeper than any which in some thousands of years has transformed civilization on earth. We are on the eve of a revolution, prior to a revolution of our habits and thoughts. Now in a state of revolution, things move, change, appear and disappear with lightning velocity. Things which we imagine to be trifles suddenly swell up into incalculable fortunes, which in normal times would hardly be noticed.

There are moments when the war seems the less important crisis—when we feel that our system is challenged, that new ideals, revised values of life, are thrust upon our notice. How are we to meet the challenge? There may be time to ponder over our answer.—Frederick Harrison in the Fortnightly (London) for March.

When Jacob died in Egypt "Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father; and the physicians embalmed Israel." This passage from Genesis has now an added interest. If his body of Jacob was embalmed in the Egyptian cave Macphelah, where Jacob was buried, it is in British hands, to be found possibly with Joseph's inscription.

At the present time the United States imposes from Canada a tax of 27,000 horse power of electrical energy. In round figures, and taking cognizance of some special factors, the electrical power now imported by the United States would be the equivalent of probably not less than 3,000,000 tons of coal.

An old distillery plant in one of the states in Delaware has been turned into a factory for the manufacture of jelly from fruit.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JULY 7—BEGINNING THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

1. How Lydia Began the Christian Life (v. 13-15).

Lydia was the first convert to Christianity in Europe. Hers was a typical conversion. Note the steps therein:

1. Attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13).

The accustomed place here was at the river side. The accustomed place today is in church. God can and does save men and women without any seeming connection with places of established worship, but he appears to most people in such places. The very fact that he has established and sustains churches here and there is an urgent call to all men and women to place themselves in the way of salvation. While no one can save himself, yet all can put themselves in the way of salvation by attending church, reading the Bible, etc.

2. Listening to the preaching of the Word of God (v. 13, 14).

Paul took advantage of the opportunity which was given him by the assembling of this great assembly of women to speak Christ to them. He was alert for and prized highly the opportunity to tell the people about Christ.

He knew also how perilous it would be to neglect to witness for Christ at a time when unsaved people are together. The opportunity is God's to preach Christ.

3. Her heart was opened by the Word (v. 14).

The individual may place himself in the way of salvation by coming near to the means of grace, and the preacher may preach the Word of God. There is no hope of salvation until the heart is opened by the Lord (John 6:43-45). While the salvation of every one is dependent upon this sovereign act of the Lord, yet we can be sure that he is willing at all times to do this for those who will.

4. She was baptized (v. 15).

This ordinance follows belief in Christ. The invariable rule in the early church was for believers to be baptized. While there is no salvation in the water of baptism, yet heart obedience to Christ must be rendered to that end (Acts 2:38-39; 8:12; Mark 10:16). Lydia brought her household to Christ. This is as it should be. She showed signs of the new life, in that she expressed gratitude toward those who had been instrumental in her conversion (v. 15) by constraining them to share the hospitality of her home.

2. How the Philistine Jailer Began the Christian Life (v. 25-34).

1. The casting out of the spirit of division from the damsel (Paul and Silas in prison). The pain of bleeding backs, and of feet in stocks, kept them from sleeping; but not from praying and singing. The Lord heard their prayers and sent an earthquake which shook the jail, opened the doors to the prison, and loosed the bonds from the prisoners' hands.

2. The method (v. 27-34).

(1) Visitation of the supernatural (v. 27-29). The jailer was awakened from his sleep by the earthquake, and the spirit of division was cast out of him. It loosened the bonds from the prisoners' hands. In his desperation the jailer was about to commit suicide. This was averted by Paul's assurance that all were safe. The fact that the doors were opened and the prisoners were free, and one escaped, showed him that something unusual had occurred. Therefore he came trembling and prostrated himself before Paul and Silas.

(2) The great question (v. 30). In the presence of the jailer he cried out, "What must I do to be saved?" One's salvation is not far off when he utters this cry with sincerity.

(3) The vital answer (v. 31, 32). "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ," is the only way to be saved (Acts 4:12). Though the way of salvation is restful, it is not always easy to believe. One who has believed on Christ has failed to receive it. The jailer's faith was not blind faith, for they spoke unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house. They were taught the meaning of belief in Christ.

(4) The evidence of a transformed life (v. 33, 34).

(a) He was baptized (v. 33). As soon as one believes on Christ he is soon to be baptized.

(b) He tenderly washed the stripes of Paul and Silas, showing that he was no longer the brutal jailer (v. 34).

(c) He rejoiced (v. 34). The one who really accepts Christ is filled with joy.

(d) A transformed home (v. 34). He believed on Christ and was baptized, and his household.

Not Him

It was somewhere in France, and the trenches looked like some river not on the map. Paddy was on guard in the communication trench and was up to his chin in water. The trench was filled with mud, water and mud. Cookers, who inquired of Paddy if he could direct him to a company of the East Lancashire cashiers.

Paddy's temper was not of the best, for he had had a long weary flight, "I only had a few hours," he replied, "I'm not the bloomin' harbormaster!"—French Journal.

Cut Trans-Siberian Railway Connections

European Russia Loses Railway Control and Grain

Czecho-Slovak control of parts of the Trans-Siberian railway has completely cut all rail and wire communications between Siberia and Russia, and has resulted in depriving European Russia of the Siberian grain supply.

The Czecho-Slovaks now control the southern section of the Trans-Siberian railway from Samara to the Volga river, to Tchelyabinsk, and the Siberian main line on the east to Novo-Nikolayevsk, also the northern branch from Tchelyabinsk to Yekaterinburg.

The Czecho-Slovaks originally numbered about 40,000 men. Of these nearly 20,000 reached Vladivostok. The remainder involved in an effort to resist disarmament, are chiefly centred about Tchelyabinsk.

War Minister Trotsky has ordered the mobilization in the Volga of all men of the last five military classes to move against the Czecho-Slovaks.

The emperor emphasized the fact that from the first he had realized the trials of war would be great. The war of great enthusiasm had not deceived him. Great Britain's intervention had meant a world struggle, and whether he desired it or not. He said he was thankful that Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff had been placed at his disposal.

The emperor said: "The German people and army, indeed, are now one and the same, and look up to you with gratitude. Every man out there knows what he is fighting for—the enemy himself admits that—and, in consequence, we shall gain victory—the victory of the German standpoint. That is what is in question."

The emperor referred to the period of peace, which he described as "26 years of profitable but hard work though they could not always be successful, and as successful in political respect, and had brought disappointment."

His interests had been centred in the work connected with the development of the army and the effort which he made at the level at which it had been entrusted to him. The emperor continued:

"In peace—in the preparation of my army for war—my grandfathers' war comrades gradually passed away, and the atmosphere of war gradually darkened, many a German, and not the least I, hoped, with assurance that God would, in this dangerous place the right man at our side. Our hope has not been disappointed. Your excellency, and you, General Ludendorff, heaven be praised upon the German empire and the German army and staff men, who are called upon. In these great times to lead the German people in arms in its decisive struggle for existence and the right to live and with its help, to gain victory."

The emperor then admits the preparation for the war and the deliberation with which it was chosen as the only course consistent with "the German standpoint." He pleads guilty to the charges made by his own and his opponents' diplomats. His last words, the most remarkable, which German has shown himself conspicuously lacking, and his suers at Anglo-Saxon principles are but contributory evidences of his aberration. This speech will be of immense value when the inevitable settlement of the civilized world with the Hohenzollers comes to be made.—Winnipeg Free Press.

New Canning Plant Working at Full Capacity

Reports from the whaling stations indicate that there has been a great improvement in all respects over early May conditions. The weather has greatly improved on the "hunting grounds" and the number of boats secured by all the boats has been most encouraging, according to advices which the Victoria Whaling company has received.

Previous reports had shown that there were large numbers of whales of the Victoria Island coast, but the whalers could not find them, unware of the opportunities that the boats had small opportunity to make killings. The latest information is that matters have been quite reversed lately, and at Akulan the catch not only numbered many whales of the ordinary type, but also a number of whales now being caught at Kyuquot is reported to be working at full capacity on whale meat for marketing all over the continent, and the manufactured product is expected to be acclaimed as a delicacy of the first class when placed before the public.

The Huns Way

What It Means to Have the Enemy in the Country

The following appeal for subscriptions to the eighth war loan appeared in several German newspapers. As a specimen of unconscious humor, the reference to Belgium would take some time. "Belgium can, one can still hesitate to subscribe for the eighth war loan. Oh, I'm faint hearted, go and ask the Belgians, the Serbians, the Russians, the Italians, what it means to have the enemy in the country. Do you not realize that it is your support of the loan only that can keep the horrors of an enemy occupation from Germany's soil?"—London Daily Mail.

Tedious Experience

"How old are you?" asked the minister of a small boy who was celebrating his birthday.

"I'm four years old," replied the youngster, "and I'm glad of it, too. I was getting awful tired of being all the time."—Vancouver Province.

Note and Comment

A distinguished surgeon was once asked this question by a wounded soldier: "Say, doctor, when one doctor doctors another doctor, does the doctor doing the doctoring doctor the other doctor like the doctor wants to be doctored, or does the doctor doing the doctoring doctor the other doctor like the doctor doing the doctoring wants to doctored him?"

On Monday we were suffering from the extreme heat but on Tuesday we ran into a bit of winter, accompanied with snow flurries, and we got busy and put on a coal fire. The shower of rain was welcome and made things look brighter. The cold reminded us that we are still minus our winter's supply of coal, so it behoves us to get busy.

The frost on Tuesday night did considerable damage to the gardens, and a quarter of an inch of ice was formed on the water, in some localities.

One reason a man has more pockets than a woman is because his collar is too tight to permit him to throw things down his shirt front.

School Lands For Sale

Selling Value in Proportion to Producting Value.

Sales of school lands have been held at various places in Saskatchewan and Alberta during the past few days. Invariably they have attracted large numbers of buyers and the majority of pieces offered were quickly disposed of, some bringing fairly high prices. At Cabri, Saskatchewan, some 158 parcels were sold, the highest price being $47 per acre. One hundred and twenty-four parcels were sold at prices from $18 to $47 an acre. At Lamont, Alberta, $42 and $43 an acre were paid for parcels, the day, the highest price realized for any of the parcels offered being $45 an acre. Commenting on this sale the Edmonton Bulletin says editorially:

"School lands in the Vegreville district have been selling as high as $45 an acre, and the same in the same area, but the price paid for wild land is none the less notable. Farmland in Alberta is coming to have a selling value something in relation to its producing value. It is still the cheapest land in the world, producing power considered."

Example For Canada

American Authorities Much in Earnest in All Matters Relating to the War

Promising is not always profitable in the United States. A New York firm of wholesale dealers was convicted recently of making a greater profit on sugar than was allowed by the federal food board. The firm had ordered and bought the sugar from the Red Cross, that amount representing the excess profit plus a fine. The food board might have cancelled the firm's license and compelled a complete suspension of business, but decided to impose the penalty instead.

American authorities seem to be very much at earnest in all matters relating to the war.—Woodstock Sun-

New Type of Unsinkable Ship Being Built in America

A new type of "unsinkable" ship is being built in America. It has been constructed of an all-steel hull, and the vessel will be built by the French government to an American yard.
The design is the work of a Frenchman and embodies principles hitherto untried, details of which are being kept secret.

Since the adverse report on the buoyancy box system, tried out on the steamer Leda, the shipping board has not undertaken any new efforts to frustrate the work of submarine torpedoes. Work is continuing, however, on increasing the number of bulkheads in vessels, which was begun some weeks ago.

It has been learned that the Ger-because the increased number of bulkheads prevented the last two explosions from flooding sufficient space to sink the vessel.

Rescue of Crew of Sinking Ship

A thrilling story of heroism at sea was disclosed at a presentation by the late Captain of the steamship Perseus of Quebec and Lloyds W. S. Roberts, late chief officer of the steamship Lord Erne.

While traversing the Atlantic on February 8, the Lord Erne received a distress signal from the Perseus that she was adrift and lost. Not withstanding the darkness and terrible weather, the captain of the Lord Erne manoeuvred his vessel as rapidly as possible to the sinking ship. Roberts called for a volunteer crew, to which all hands, including the engineer and the steward, responded.
Despite the greatest difficulties, the Perseus was boarded and the whole of the 26 members of the crew rescued.

A Bit Too Light

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out
Without Any Pain

Sore, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right off with the fingers if you will apply on the corn a few drops of freezeon, says a Cincinnati authority.

Manitoba Farm Loans
During the first year of its existence, the Manitoba Farmers' Association had a very satisfactory record. The sums loaned amounted to $1,366,500. At the present time money is being loaned to the farmers of the province at the rate of $150,000 a month. The assistance rendered to farmers by means of these loans has enabled them to greatly increase the production on their farms.

Wilmar local of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association has recommended that all poolrooms and bowling alleys be closed during the war.

SELF DEFENSE DEFEAT BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE WITH ANURIC

Many people in Canada have suffered from a kidney trouble and have found Anuric to be the most useful remedy to overcome these painful and dangerous ailments.

The lucky people are those who have headed Nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that new discovery, Dr. Pierce's Anuric. Anuric should properly heed these warning, some of which are dizzy spells, headache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as diabetes or stone in the bladder.

In these cases you should take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and eat each meal

Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are rid of all forms of kidney trouble.

Anuric, as are many of your neighbors,

Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or Bridgeport, Conn., 100 for trial pkg.

St. Catharines, Ont.

Ont.—For several years I suffered with gravel and with great aches, causing rheumatic pains. Nothing ever helped me until I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Anuric, and the aches

I noticed was that the gravel had disappeared and has never made a reappearance. My general health has improved and my weight seems to be normal again. I used to have night cramps at times I thought I would faint, but these no longer trouble me. My only regret is that I did not know of Anuric before.

Disease in Roumania

Epidemic Resulting From War Conditions Decimating Districts

Roumania is negotiating with Germany for large quantities of chemical preparations and other medical materials to combat diseases growing out of war conditions which are raging with disastrous results in Roumanian territory, according to The Berlin Vossische Zeitung.

The population in some districts affected by the widespread wave of disease has been decimated, the newspaper declares.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

House Rationing in Berlin

Berlin has become so short of houses that a card rationing scheme is to be put into effect. According to Vorwärts, the housing cards will involve the subdivision of large houses and the redistribution of bedrooms according to the size of the family to be accommodated. Single families are no longer to be allowed to occupy houses of ten to fifteen rooms, only a few of which are actually used.—From the Shreveport Times.

A GOOD APPETITE — A GREAT BLESSING

The Occasional Use of a Tonic Will Ensure a Good Appetite and Good Health

Loss of appetite during the summer months is a common trouble, and indicates that the digestive system is out of order. Lacking a healthy appetite many people—especially women—go long without food, or skip meals, and with the fingers if you will apply on the corn a few drops of freezeon, says a Cincinnati authority.

BUSY BIDEFORD

Apparently the grain prospects of this district are not entirely hopeless as was at one time feared. T. Bickle, who was in town on Saturday, brot in a sample of his wheat which is almost 36 in. high. He has a level quarter section of this, a perfect picture, and a great testimony to his successful farming methods in a dry season.

Peter Swanson also has an equally good stand, whilst several other farmers hope to be able to cut 10 bushels to the acre.

One of the most successful farmers in the district has proved it possible to raise excellent alfalfa, despite the dry weather. We looked at a sample recently taken from a stand of fourth year cutting, it was in full bloom, about 30 in. high, and the second growth is now over a foot high. On his farm we admired a handsome shelter belt of trees showing an excellent growth.

In Robinson's Store there can be seen an interesting collection of knitted and sewn garments used by the Red Cross to minister to the comforts of our wounded Tommies. When we realize that there are today 50,000 Canadian soldiers who are requiring Red Cross supplies, we feel the urge of the work. Most of the ladies here have taken work home and all leisure hours are employed to stitch or knit. All are requested to call at the store, see the samples and order whatsoever garments they feel able to make. See Miss Shannon for supplies.

A successful dance was held at Staley's new store, on Wed. evening, to celebrate the opening of the building. The night was exceptionally warm, but in spite of the heat the dancers enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Amongst those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Botheras and the comment of everyone was that the bride looked charming.

We wish the new store every success and trust business will boom as much as possible in these hard times.

The new station will soon be completed and Bideford will rise to the dignity and importance of being on the railway map. Can we hope to magnetise the town as a shipping centre and attract here the money that is taking to itself wings and is flying east? Let us remember we have 3 stores to cater to our needs and it is up to us to support them and that right loyalty.

Owing to shortage of feed for hogs the farmers are gradually reducing their number, in this district. And prices are now considerably lower.

POINTERS

Pretension isn't natural — nature never pretends.

Thoughts that disturb men most never enter a woman's head.

If a man is his own worst enemy he has a one-sided fight on his hands.

Our views on society depends upon whether we are inside or outside.

Unless a man is sincere he can never be a hero in our estimation.

Cowards sing at night because they are afraid. Women laugh at love for the same reason.

What does it benefit a man if he is on the right road but headed the wrong way?

Were it not for the weather lots of people wouldn't have anything to kick about.

The sense of touch is highly developed in a man who knows just when to ask for a loan.

Success never roosts on the banner of the man who can't rely upon himself.

The only reason why some men marry is because the woman wants a home and the man wants a servant.

Old Folks' Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Quickly Cured

This Tells of a Method That Cures
Without Using Drugs

Elderly people take cold easily. Under young folks they recover quickly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia.

Cough Syrups seldom do much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRH OZONE," which heals and softens the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In most Coughs you do not take medicine into the stomach—just simple breathe into the throat, nose and lungs, rich phary balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

When breathing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure, medicinal essences, whereas with a few affected parts could not be reached and harm could result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrhzone Inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. A single dose costs $1.00, and supplies for a month. Small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Canada.

river Carmen's packet. He did not see what the packet had to do with him, but he had had some trouble about it and thought it might turn up again. Then he wondered whether Daly was now in Amundale. The fellow was obviously determined to go to Lawrence, and if one admitted that he had come to England for the purpose, did not mind how much it cost him, which was rather strange. After all, blackmailing was a risky business and the Featherstones were not rich. It looked as though Daly might have some other object in taking Carmen, but Foster could not see what it was. He was greatly puzzled. There was a mystery about Carmen's packet, he had been warned out of Edinburgh, and inquiries about him were afterwards made, while Daly's keenness was not quite explained. He had been a good boy, but he had somehow related, but at present he only offered her tangled clues that led nowhere. Well, he might be able to unravel them by and by, and get along with his way.

He spent the night at a lonely cottage on the edge of a peat moss and reached the Garth next afternoon. John, the boy, was waiting to take his mackintosh. "Mr. and Mrs. Featherstone are out, but Miss Featherstone is at home; I will let her know you have arrived." Then he paused and added in a half apologetic tone: "I hope you had a long journey, sir."

Foster smiled. John had softened his imperious formality by just the right touch of respectful interest. In a sense, they were accomplices, but Foster thought if they had committed a crime together, the old fellow would have treated him with unmoved deference as his master's guest.

"On the whole, I had, I suppose you met the other car when you turned back at the station?"

"Yes, sir. I met it coming round the bend."

"As the road's narrow, your judgment's pretty good. Did anything happen?"

John's eyes twinkled faintly. "Not to our car, sir. The other had the bad luck to run on to the grass where the ground was soft. In fact, we had some trouble to pull her out. The gentleman seemed annoyed, sir. The boy was very much shocked. He could imagine the deferential way in which John, who had caused the accident, had offered help. When we went down Alice met him in the hall and he thrilled at something in her manner as she gave him her hand. It was good dark and the gables were darkened among the shadows but there was only one lamp, and as it was shaded the light did not travel far beyond the small table on which the boy was presently served. The boy eddied about in homesick intimacy. An embroidered cloth half covered the dark, polished oak, the china was old but unusually delicate, and the blue flame of a spirit lamp burned beneath the copper kettle.

Foster thought everything showed signs of fastidious taste, but there was something austere about the place, something that harmonized with the dignified shabbiness of the house. It was, for example, very different from the prettiness of the Edinburgh tea room, and he thought it hinted at the character of the Borderer. For all the prettiness of his companion, he had the greatest charm. Alice was plainly dressed, but simplicity became her. The girl had the Border spirit, with its reserves of strength and tenderness. Now she was quietly friendly, but Foster knew her friendship was not lightly given and was worth much.

Alice made him talk about his life and he did so frankly, except that he did not mention his meeting with the girl in the tea room or the detective's visit to his hotel. Still he felt a certain embarrassment as he had done nothing to tell her his story. It was rather hard to relate his own exploits, and he knew Alice would note any error he was led into by vanity or false defiance.

"Then it was really to keep a promise to Miss Austin you went to Newcastle," she remarked presently. "Since you sent me your picture, you must know her pretty well."

"Yes," said Foster, "in a way we are good friends. You see there are not a great many people at the Crossing."

Alice gave him a quiet glance. He was not such a fool as to imagine it mattered to her whether he knew Carmen well or not. But he thought she was not altogether pleased.

Not So Mere

The small boy sometimes sees straight and sees far. He reads the signs of the times unabashed. John, at a co-educational school in England, cut quite a good figure at the examinations and used to get the highest marks awarded in his mixed class. His father was astonished and incensed. John beaten by a girl! John, I am surprised to find that you have allowed yourself to be defeated by a mere girl."

"Yes, father," says John, unblushingly, "I have, but I can tell you something you are not so mere after all." —The Argonaut.

Canada as a Holiday Resort

Canadians Learning More Than Ever Before the Attractions of Home Country

"Summer travel is good in Canada this year, despite the war and some inclement weather," said Mr. W. H. Snell, general passenger agent of the C. P. R. eastern lines, yesterday. In fact the war has had two outstanding effects on Canada which the ordinary wage earner has had such opportunities for making money that an unprecedented number of working people have been able to indulge their lifelong desire to take their wives and family back to their home and see their old folks. This latter feature of travel has been very marked during the past year, and is more in evidence than ever this summer. In all parts of Canada thousands of men who have for many years nursed the desire to travel abroad have been able to make the trip this year and they are doing it. The result is good for the country, good for the families, and good for the railways.

"In fact," said Mr. Snell, "one of the most remarkable features of summer travel is the application of the motto 'Canada for the Canadians.' More of our people are learning to know their own country than ever before, simply because of the expense and difficulty of going abroad. Travel to Europe has been practically eliminated owing to war conditions on the Atlantic. The increase in rates in the United States and the difficulties surrounding travel from Canada to American resorts has led to a considerable extent reduced summer travel from Canada. The result is that thousands of people who in other times have always gone abroad or to the United States for their summer vacations are now spending their holidays and their money in Canada with distinct advantage to themselves and the country.

"In this way, while war conditions have cut off a good deal of foreign travel, Canadian summer vacation conditions have so increased home travel as to more than offset this. People are visiting our own Rockies instead of going to Switzerland, going to Canada instead of taking German waters, sailing trips over the Canadian lakes and rivers, or to our own coasts instead of going to American ocean resorts. It is a curious effect that war should force Canadians to know their own country, but it is one of the results of European configuration and one that should prove of lasting benefit to Canada."

As a result of these general conditions, Mr. Snell said that passenger traffic in Canada has been unusually good. The C. P. R. has a large number of Canadian railways, as well as lines on the lake and other steamship lines, despite the fact that under war regulations there were no more excursions or special rates. The rates in the United States had gone up so high, with the fall in the dollar, that all excursion or other special rates that people were learning more and more to do their pleasure travel in Canada.

"A good deal of this is due to the fact that wages in Canada are higher than ever before," said Mr. Snell. "Where a few years ago men were
